WE ARE SPECIALIST PLASTIC SURGEONS

Did you know?

A highly qualified plastic surgeon is not the same as a cosmetic surgeon. Many people are surprised to learn that there is often a vast difference in skill and prerequisites between the two.

After completing a medical degree, graduate doctors must undertake a further with to twelve years of specialist surgical training and sit a series of rigorous exams in order to be invited to become a Fellow of the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons (RACS). Only then do they gain recognition as fully qualified specialist plastic and reconstructive surgeons.

Find confidence in knowing our plastic surgeons are recognised industry specialists. Their additional years of medical training have allowed each of our surgeons to master an array of techniques, across a range of procedures, giving them the necessary skills and expertise to perform plastic and reconstructive surgery in Australia.
